COUNTY WHEAT ALLOTMENT PLAN READY

STAGE NRA CONSUMERS PLEDGE DRIVE

First Reports Indicate Drive To Be Big Success

With "a Blue Eagle in every Home," set as the goal, 14 volunteer workers of the local NRA committee, headed by Mayor C. R. Burrow chairman of the committee, this week inaugurated in Canyon the drive for Consumer Pledges.

Mr. Burrow called the local committee in meeting Monday to perfect plans for the house to house canvass in Canyon. Tuesday morning the workers in the campaign, wearing "Blue Eagle," buttons bearing the word "Volunteer" began working.

Although the local drive is far from completed indications are that it will be a tremendous success in Canyon. The report of the first day's canvass gave an estimate of 500 pledge cards signed. The remaining part of the canvass is expected to be completed within the next few days.

A similar canvass of business firms will be conducted by a local NRA committee within the next four or five days, was the announcement of Mr. Burrow.

A number of Canyon homes are not listed in the first reports, because in many instances no one was at home when the Blue Eagle worker called. An attempt will be made to cover every home here, but in some cases, circumstances will prevent it. Those citizens in Canyon, who have unavoidably been missed are requested to call at the Chamber of Commerce office, sign the pledge card and receive the "Consumer Blue Eagle."

Pledge cards and the Blue Eagle insignia may be had by any adult person who wishes to co-operate with the President's program. An attempt to cover as much of the county as possible will also be made by the local committee. Any person living out of town wishing to sign the pledge card is invited to call at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Volunteer workers in the local campaign included Mayor Burrow, O. W. Gano, Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Rev. C. W. Foote, Elmer Wooten, Ray Campbell, Mark Laughery, M. E. Moses, Dr. M. L. Saddoris, Albert E. Terry, Homer Price, Alfred Bellah, W. H. Hardin, and Fred E. Wortham.

RANDALL GOES DRY IN LOCAL OPTION VOTE

Constitutional Amendments Are Favored In County

STATE GOES WET

Votes Cast Less Than Anticipated In State

Randall county remained in the dry territory of Texas, rejecting the authority to legalize beer in the county by a vote of 581 to 353; voting against the repeal of the 18th amendment, 551 to 393; and against legalizing beer in the state, 532 to 406.

The voters favored the three constitutional amendments; for home rule, for the $20,000,000 bond issue, and for homestead exemption.

The state of Texas joined the procession of states demanding the repeal of the 18th amendment, and will be the 23rd state in the union to favor the rejection of this amendment. All of the constitutional amendments were adopted by the voters Saturday by large majorities.

Four of the 10 voting precincts in Randall county voted in favor of legalizing beer in Randall county, their being Nos. 7, 8, 9, and 18. The total vote for beer in these four precncts was 162 with 60 against. The majority against beer in the county was 222.

The number of votes cast Saturday all over the state was much less than anticipated. The poll tax payments numbered only 60% of the normal of election years. More than 1400 people were eligible to vote in Randall county, but only 944 cast votes Saturday.

Practically all West Texas counties voted on local option Saturday, but most of them remained in the dry column. Potter, Dallam, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Oldham, Carson, Gray and Wheeler, were the only ones to vote in favor of legalizing the sale of beer.

Children's Clinic Is Declared a Success

Thirty-one Tots Given Medical and Dental Examinations

The annual free clinic for children who will enter school for the first time this fall was held Monday and Tuesday in the ward building of the Canyon public schools. This project, which was sponsored by the public school Parent-Teachers Association, was pronounced a decided success and the school authorities were much pleased with the work.

Thirty-one six-year-old children were given a complete medical and dental examination and complete records of the examinations will be used by the teachers in planning the school career of each child.

Mrs. William Robinson, president of the Canyon Parent-Teacher Association, says that the project is the first of many that the association plans for the coming year in an effort to help the children of our schools in every way possible. All parents who are interested in the schools and their problems are urged to participate in the activities of the association and to enroll as soon as possible. There are no enrollment fees.

The following doctors and members of the local association took part in the examinations: Drs. Neblett, Lockhart, Donnell, and Ingham, and Mesdames Robinson, W. T. Davis, Walsh, Sternenberg, Lisle, Thompson, Cousins, Collins, Carruth, Beason, Stewart, Flesher, Stroud, Watkins, Winstead and Prichard.

Prohibition Rally Friday Draws Few On Account of Rain

Rain during Friday afternoon and late in the evening was responsible for a small attendance at the prohibition rally which was held in the district court room. It was planned that the meeting would be held at the bandstand but this plan had to changed.

Rev. E. Gaston Foote, pastor of the San Jacinto Methodist Church, Amarillo, was the principal speaker, and made a powerful appeal for the friends of prohibition and good government to rally at the polls Saturday and express their protest against the return of the saloon.

Short statements were made by Clyde W. Warwick, Mayor C. R. Burrow and Senator J. W. Reid.

The expedition will probably leave about the 15th of September.

Judge Bishop Is Pleased With Rapid Dispatch of Business

12 FOUND GUILTY

Largest Number Criminal Cases Ever Tried In County

Judge Henry S. Bishop brought to a close Saturday afternoon the summer session of the District Court, which has been the busiest session in several years. Judge Bishop was highly pleased with the rapid dispatch of business, both criminal and civil.

The grand jury met in final session Thursday, returning two more bills, which makes a total of 15 felonies and 4 misdemeanors for the session. The grand jury had examined 75 witnesses during the term. The only recommendation made by the body was that a milk inspection and meat inspection ordinance be passed by the city. The county officers were highly complimented for their co-operation during the sessions of the grand jury.

Every criminal case tried during the session resulted in conviction. Twelve persons were found guilty, five being given the suspended sentence. This is the highest number of criminal cases tried, all of which were convicted, that has ever been tried in Randall county.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Cannon of South Amarillo were convicted of illegal possession of liquor Friday and given two years and six months suspended sentence.

Notice of appeal was given by J. H. Morris and D. A. Mask, both facing penitentiary sentences.

The charge against Fred Marshall, Jr., for impersonating an officer was transferred to the county court.

The case of Phillips Petroleum Co. vs. Leo Stocker resulted in a mistrial.

In the case of H. LeRoy Varnes et al vs. W. D. Muncey, the temporary injunction was dissolved, and application for receivership was overruled.

George A. Frank was granted a divorce from Vivian Frank.

Lonnie Mae Webb was granted a divorce from Wilbur Andrew Webb.

A jury commission composed of H. Bethurem, W. T. Hazlewood and J. T. Marshall selected jurors for the next session of court.

MEETINGS ARE PLANNED FOR CO. FARMERS

Brief Facts of the Plan Are Outlined For Farmers

INTEREST IS KEEN

'Plan Upsets No Markets' Says Co. Agent Upchurch

Work of carrying the message of the farm wheat allotment plan to farmers in Randall county will begin this week. County Agent W. H. Upchurch has announced a series of nine meetings for farmers throughout the county. The first of these meetings will be held Friday night of this week at the Sunny Hill school house. These meetings are designed to reach every farmer in the county.

Mr. Upchurch spent several days of last week in Plainview receiving information direct from government officials regarding how the allotment plan will work. This week he has kept an office force busy getting out the necessary advance information and data to farmers in the county. Indications are at present that should the campaign continue as scheduled, Randall county may be among the first if not the first county in Texas to receive the wheat allotment checks this fall.

Keen interest in the manner by which the plan will operate is shown by the number of inquiries received daily at the County Agent's office. He has requested that farmers withhold their inquiries until the time of the meeting in their individual community.

Just how the individual farmer may figure for himself on what terms he may co-operate with the Government in the domestic allotment plan for wheat is described in material just received by the Extension Service from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington.

In Randall county the three year average yield happens to be below the five year yield: Therefore a farmer's individual three year yield (or the county average three year yield) will be adjusted upward to equal the county allotment which is based on a five year base period. In order to establish his individual base a farmer would submit his three year acreage. This means the acreage for the harvest of 1930-31 and 32. Suppose his average yield (or the county average as the case may be) is 10 bushels and his average acreage for the base period is 500 acres, this would give him a base of 5,000 bushels. Fifty-four percent of this, or 2,700 bushels is his domestic allotment on which the cash payments will be made this fall. The first payments will be 20c per bushel or $540.00. The

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION 1933

SATURDAY'S ELECTION

No careful observer of the trend in public thought could have been very greatly surprised at the result of Saturday's election. In fact, no one who has observed the happenings of the last few months with the least semblance of understanding would have predicted that Texas would stay a dry state. All pressure of a chaotic time, of the national administration, of a state administration, of an unbalanced capacity to think clearly on any subject all favored the repeal of the 18th amendment, and legalizing beer in Texas.

The News has no opology to make for opposing the liquor business. We realized we were whipped before the fight started, so far as Texas is concerned. The people are crying out for a change, regardless of whether that change is for the better or for the worse. Just anything for a change.

So far as Randall county is concerned, we are mighty proud that this county remains a dry territory. As we view it, nothing good can come out of the open saloon, which is the only thing that the wets have to offer. The News will continue to fight for the dry cause, because nothing good can ever come out of an evil, and an evil institution and practice.

The News is gratified that practically every county in the state where a state educational institution is located has refused to legalize the sale of beer, and allow the return of the open saloon. We shall see whether or not these communities will be "ruined" as the wets put it, because liquor does not flow freely.

Several Panhandle counties voted in favor of legalized beer. We shall now see whether or not these counties suddenly become prosperous under the stimulation of the saloon. If they should, and the rest of the dry territory remain under the heels of the depression, there will be ample argument for turning the entire country over to the liquor interests. However, it is well to observe that England, France, Germany and other nations which never voted out liquor seem to be as hard hit by the depression as is this nation. Legalized liquor did not seem to solve all of their financial difficulties.

There is another surprise in Texas that for a second time all constitutional amendments which were submitted to the people were adopted. Texas voters formed the habit years and years ago of opposing all constitutional amendments. Now that the voters have started accepting all of them, needed changes are likely to result in the state government. However, it would be a wiser and more economical thing to hold a constitutional convention to entirely rewrite the old constitution than it is to submit amendment after amendment at the cost of several thousand dollars each.

The legislature meets on Sept. 11th to determine the method of handling the $20,000,000 bond issue, or as much of it as deemed necessary. If the legislature properly safe-guards this money, and will not turn it over to political grafters, the law makers will receive the praise of the people. But the legislature is confronted with a most serious problem in handling this fund, and the people are expecting that not one cent shall go to pay political debts, or build up a political machine for some one to continue in office.

The past term of the district court was the most successful in years from the standpoint of successful prosecution of law breakers. It is seldom that the state is able to make every indictment stand up in court, as it was in this instance. Most of the cases were against people from outside of Randall county who came into the county to do their cussedness. Perhaps the criminal element will find out one of these days that the people of Randall county believe in law enforcement; that we have a sheriff who believes in law enforcement; and that the courts really convict those who break the law.

The rapid progress of the federal government in handling kidnapping cases will discourage this element of criminals—the worst element in the annals of criminal history. Perhaps the federal government's prosecution is no more active than local authorities in many instances, but state lines are not the barriers for them that they are for local officials. Furthermore, the federal officers usually have had more training in handling desperate criminals of which class the kidnapper is the extreme.

NRA must work or dire consequences will follow. This is well known by President Roosevelt, and was realized before he started the movement. Therefore it is necessary that each and every person get behind the movement. The business people are co-operating with the President; now the buyers must back those who have signed the pledge and are following the President's program.

What will the wets do after the repeal of the 18th amendment? They can no longer blame all manner of evils to prohibition, as they have in the past. And they do not expect to see the crime wave suddenly vanish with the return of liquor. Perhaps they have talked too much for their future good.

News in Canyon 25 Years Ago

(From the files of the Canyon City News, August 28, 1908)

It is the custom of the relatives of the Campbell families who live in this city and county to meet together once a year and hold a reunion. This plan originated eight years ago, and has each year been successful. The ninth of these celebrations was held during the past week when, for five days, fifty-three of these relatives pitched their tents on the Palo Duro on the Keiser place about three miles northwest of town, and spent the time in a good old time camping out picnic, eating the fatted calf and other good things which were bountifully supplied. The following is a list of those attending. Mrs. Augusta McElroy, Clyde McElroy, Mrs. Jennie Banks, Eugene Banks, Don Campbell, the son of J. I. Campbell who could not attend on account of business at other points; Will Campbell and family, E. D. Harrell and family, E. W. Reynolds and family, Geo. McElroy and family from Dalhart, R. A Campbell and family, Hugh Muldrow and family, Bob Stratton and family, Howard Reynolds and family of Grayson county.

The City Pharmacy, which has belonged to L. L. Monroe, began to change owners early in the week and while stock-taking was being done it kept changing until now it is owned by Joe Foster and R. E. Foster, who will continue the business under the name of the City Pharmacy, Foster Bros., proprietors.

J. L. Prichard has returned from his farm at Lake Arthur.

Prof. J. L. Redus, superintendent of our public schools for the coming year, has arrived with his family and is hard at work making the preliminary outlines for the coming year.

Jim Black will attend school at Weatherford, Okla., again next year and expects to leave for that place the early part of next week.

Rev. T. F. Robeson and wife have gone to spend about two weeks with relatives and friends at Memphis and Kirkland.

Mrs. Gus O'Keefe and children of Fort Worth are visiting at the home of R. W. O'Keefe on West Houston Street this week.

Rector Lester left Tuesday afternoon for Yale University where he will attend school the coming year.

Mrs. S. B. Lofton is visiting her sister near Hereford this week.

Mrs. G. S. Ballard is visiting her sister, Mrs. Murray Evans, in Swisher county this week.

Rev. M. E. Hawkins, who has been assisting in a meeting at Portales, N. M., has returned home.

H. E. Wesley came in from the Ceta neighborhood Wednesday and reports everything looking good down there.

The entire foundation for our new courthouse has been completed and the contractors, Messrs. Gillcoat and Skinner, are ready to begin the erection of the walls as soon as the base, which is to be twenty-four inches high and made of Carthage, Mo., stone, arrives.

A young lad and a cow caused much trouble in the office of the mayor and city marshall last Wednesday. The lad was attempting to drive the cow through the streets of the city when she saw the open door of the office of these city officials and proceeded to make a visit. From reports it is evident that the officers, who were absent at the time, when they returned knew they had had a visitor on account of the overturned chairs and other articles. She had evidently decided after entering that she did not like the place, and proceeded to go through the office in a hurry. She got through without arrest.

Chamber Commerce News

President Roosevelt and the National Recovery Administration placed a great responsibility on chambers of commerce when the stupendous task of seeing that the NRA functioned in every city of more than 2,500 was assigned to the chambers of commerce in such cities. At the same time it was one of the most far reaching recognitions ever given such an organization. Never before was such a job with a national scope been placed entirely in the hands of chambers of commerce to see that such committees functioned as expected by the Government.

The National Recovery Administration realized the need for already functioning organized groups. To find the organization which in each community would already be in shape for action, they turned to one general organization, the chambers of commerce.

This week marked the beginning of a gigantic and united movement throughout the Nation to enlist the individual under the banner of the NRA Blue Eagle.

The NRA campaign heretofore has been largely one of voluntary action on the part of the employer, but now comes the drive to enlist every adult person in the United States to co-operate by individual effort with the President and his program. The individual can do his or her part easily by signing the Consumer Co-operation Pledge.

The local committee making the canvas of Canyon this week, found little opposition to such a co-operative spirit. However, there are those who, few in number, refused to sign a card pledging to the President their co-operation in the NRA drive to reduce unemployment in this Nation. When a person refuses to sign a Consumer Pledge the United States Government looks upon that person in the same light as the "slacker" during war times.

The consumer of the Nation is faced with great responsibility.

Every individual, man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself and his community and to the nation to buy only from those employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing payrolls to bring back prosperity. This is to the self-interest of the consumer because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation.

So every consumer should sign the Consumers' Pledge, which commits him to do his part in this great national economic experiment.

The duty of every citizen in Canyon is therefore plain. The President has said:

"On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this Nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society and of the Nation itself that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could even hope to bring about."

Canyon must do its part in this great plan. It has never failed when the nation called and it will not fail now!

MEETING CALLED

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

C.C.C. CAMP NEWS

By W. B. GRAUEL
Palo Duro Canyon,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Friend:

As you will note from the address above, I am at Palo Duro Canyon, which is located 13 miles east of Canyon and approximately 31 miles by highway from Amarillo. There are three companies of Texas world war veterans at work here on the construction of a road into the canyon.

The project is a part of the Civilian Conservation Corps program. We started the work July 12. It will continue through the winter and very probably more than a year. When the road is completed to the mesa of the canyon, lodges will be built, an auto camp established and the surroundings made as attractive as possible for state park purposes.

We already have made considerable progress on the road and persons already are entering the canyon on horseback. The canyon, briefly, is a scenic spectacle. It has a depth in some places of 1500 feet. From the top of the new road to the floor of the canyon there it a gradual dip of 584 feet.

The canyon must be seen to be appreciated. Descriptions of it embrace all the adjectives that one can think of. It is particularly unusual because it suddenly appears in a country noted for its flatness.

The Panhandle is flat in two ways right now, first because it always has been broad, even or level, and secondly, because this section has just experienced the worst drouth in its history.

Anyway, getting back to the canyon, it now is a state park and effort is being made to have it recognized as a national park. It is only recently that the Palo Duro was opened to the public, it formerly belonging to one of the largest privately owned ranches in the world. The canyon extends 80 miles. It has 14,000 acres of interest from every standpoint.

Spanish expeditions and tribes of Indians first utilized its advantages. The canyon was officially discovered in 1852, by Col. Marcy, a U. S. Army officer. It was cleared of hostile Indians in 1872 and 1876. Colonel Charles Goodnight brought the first cattle here from Pueblo, Colo. There are several entrances to the canyon, and it is larger at some points than at others.

In some respects it might be described as a succession of mountains, excepting that the great walls and the immense formations constitute in reality the background of giant precipices. Running thru the canyon is the Palo Duro Creek, one of the head-waters of the Red River. All manner of interesting relics are found in the canyon and it has appeal both for the explorer, the student, the climber, and the lover of the beautiful and marvelous.

We started our camp with 600 men, all veterans. Two of our companies recruited at San Antonio and the other at Fort Sill in Oklahoma. All are Texans or enrolled from points in Texas. We have breakfast at 6:30. We report for work at 7:30. We come in for dinner at 11.30. The afternoon starts at 12:30 and we stop road work at 3:30.

We spend the afternoons playing ball, washing clothes, reading or writing.

We have a large supply of books and magazines. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce supplies us with envelopes. Evenings there is usually a program of some kind. The American Legion Post of Canyon loaned each company a piano. We sing the old songs; there are musicians in the camp, and on Sunday evenings services are held.

We signed up for six months, but the President has advised all camps that after an honest effort to get a job, if anyone cannot get one, he can enlist for another six months. The head cooks, platoon leaders and several men such as dynamiters and supply sergeant, draw $45 a month. Section leaders, second cooks and a few more get $36. All others are paid $30 and nearly every instance the men have made an allotment of $25 to their wives, mothers or other dependants. A few of the men do not have dependants and they leave their allotment money with the quartermaster until their six months is up.

Virtually all of us were broke when we enrolled. We still are, for that matter. We are furnished good clothes; work shoes and dress shoes. They forgot hats. The eats are fine. Good food, well cooked and a good variety. We work five days a week. Saturday and Sunday many go to Canyon or Amarillo. Everybody likes Canyon. The young ladies at the West Texas State Teachers College, during summer school, were very gracious to us, rendering programs and helping to make our stay pleasant.

Too many of the men have been arrested in Amarillo, for most of the men to like it. In some instances they have deserved to be arrested, but in nearly every case heavy fines have been administered and it seems that the officers there are fee-hungry. They spent a couple of thousand dollars to get us here, and then treat us pretty crude when we go to their town.

Nobody has had any trouble in Canyon, which is a strictly dry and particular town. Amarillo, however, is a city with many beautiful homes and the people have been nice to us, for the most part. The American Legion Post of Amarillo presented us two flag-poles and they make us welcome when we go down there. Eliminating the county cops, it's a swell place, too.

We are sleeping in tents, but are expecting to have barracks for the winter. They say it gets pretty cold here, about the only thing separating it from the North Pole being a barbed-wire fence. We thought for a while we might be moved to south Texas, maybe somewhere down on the border, but it looks like we'll canyon on until Christmas and some of us longer than that.

Our officers have been splendid. I don't think there is anything else much to say, so this letter will close, and, at some time in the future, you can come here and see for yourself the canyon and our part in opening it to the public.

Balloon tires and four wheel brakes are fine, but the most important accessory so far invented is a cool head at the steering wheel.

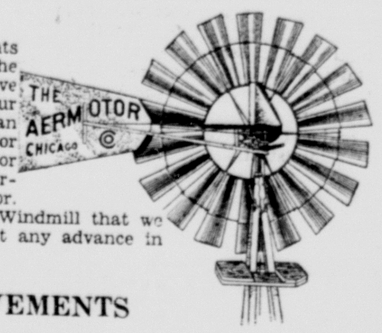
THE NEWEST WINDMILL
An Improved
AERMOTOR



Important improvements in the construction of the Auto-Oiled Aermotor have just been completed. Our engineers have made an exhaustive search for every possible means for improving the performance of the Aermotor. The result is the best Windmill that we have ever made without any advance in prices.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

THE WHEEL SHAFT has been increased in size to give it ample strength to meet any emergency.

REMOVEABLE BEARINGS are used for the wheel shaft and the large gears. These bearings can be easily replaced on the tower if it should ever become necessary.

THE WHEEL ARMS screw into the hub so that they can never work loose. The wheel is assembled with only six bolts.

THE DOUBLE GEARS RUN QUIETLY because they are made with great accuracy. The small gears except for the largest sizes, are cut from steel bars and are very true and uniform. The large gears are machine holded with great exactness.

SPEED REGULATION, The tension of the vane spring is now such that the wheel will regulate off in moderate winds when slow speed is desired. Adjustment for higher speed is easily made.

THE NEW BRAKE is made adjustable.

We cansell our customers the Improved Aremotor with full confidence that we are giving them the best windmill that skill can produce and at prices which are made only by the most modern factory equipment.

Meetings are Planned

balance of not more than 10c and not less than 8c will be paid in the spring. The cost of local county administration will be deducted from the spring payment.

Mr. Upchurch is giving briefly some of the facts concerning the allotment plan said:

"You would be free to sell your wheat crop when, where and to whom you pleased. If you have already sold your 1933 crop that would not matter. Your 1933 crop, however, must have totaled at least your allotment, or the amount seeded in the fall of 1932 must have been enough at average yields to have produced at least this amount.

"This plan upsets no markets and creates no surplus. It gives no incentive to increase production.

"In return for these payments and similar ones which may be authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture for 1934 and 1935 you would sign a three-year contract by which you would agree to reduce acreage as directed by the Secretary not to exceed 20%. It is understood that this has been set at 15%.

"To fulfill your contract you would have to prepare and sow an acreage of 54% of your acreage in a workmanlike manner and replace the retired wheat acres with no crops other than those for soil enrichment, prevention of soil erosion, food for home use, feed for livestock to be used at home, or summer fallowed. If you perform your part of the contract the Government will pay you the extra benefits described whether you make a crop or not. The payments this fall and next spring will be made regardless of whether your 1933 crop failed or made. In this respect the plan furnishes crop insurance.

"To co-operate in this plan you must sign a contract in the coming campaign and cannot join as late as next year. You must abide by the contract the full three-year period (1933-34-35), and failure to live up to the contract will cause the Government to collect back any advances paid.

"The contract attaches to the farm and not to the farmer. If you move to another farm the tenant who follows you must abide by the contract. If you move to a farm where a contract is in force you must abide by it. Landlords and tenants share in the benefits in exact proportion to the rental agreements.

"A tenant may seed more wheat this fall than his 3-year individual average if he happens to rent land which carries a quota greater than the farm previously operated."

Wayside Items

Glad to report glorious rains have fallen, seemingly all over the Plains. Different looking country, everything green and doing all possible. Row crops may not have time to make grain, but forage crops will be lots of help.

Wayside's Annual the 25th was a success, unable to estimate the number in attendance, some thought possibly two thousand. Great many old timers, and others from surrounding towns, and all seemed to enjoy the day. Eats for the crowd as far as we could learn in plenty. Someone proposed a brush arbor for the next which would add much to the occasion.

At the suggestion of W. D. McGehee, a flower was pinned on the members of the "Three Score and Ten Club," which was much appreciated for the most part. Mrs. Fannie Franklin, Wayside, and Mrs. R. F. Rogers, Happy, confered the favors.

Mrs. Edith Harral and children returned from their visit to Seagraves the past week. Miss Williams of Abernathy her niece accompanied them.
